

A Special Thank you

THE NEW HOPE CENTER

My name is Michelle Crockett and I arrived at The Salvation Army New Hope Center on June 19th 2006.

I had nowhere to go and was severely depressed and out of medication.

The staff took great care of me, made me feel comfortable and safe and showed me where everything was so I could function.

On June 22nd, I met with a Resource Advisor, Mrs. Garnica who helped me with referrals and I got an appointment with a mental health doctor and was able to get back on my medications.

During this time I had a lot of court hearings to attend regarding several issues and was able to take care of all of these issues.

I had wanted to enter the military and now I felt like I was capable and stable enough to go through the acceptance testing and application process for the Army.

I was accepted and will soon be stationed in Georgia.

I would like to thank The Salvation Army and the staff of the New Hope Center for their understanding and help - they are truly caring people.
